WHY CHOOSE UNDERFLOOR HEATING?

There are a number of benefits that underfloor heating has over traditional heating. Because the heat rises from the floor, the whole room will heat up evenly, unlike radiators. It is environmentally friendly, healthier and can be up to 40% more energy efficient to run, saving you money on your heating bills over time. Both electric and water can be used for any room in the property. Depending on certain factors of your project, one may be better suited than the other. Take into account the size of the room, type of subfloor, power, or water sources and decide which heating option will meet your needs.

Electric Systems are available in a variety of options, including pre laid and spaced cable on a mesh mat, making installation even easier. Loose cable allows you to lay and space the cable to your desired heat output. Both options are suitable for laying underneath tiled flooring.

Our aluminium foil mat is designed to warm under laminate flooring. The cables are 2mm thin, making it perfect for installing on existing floors. The kits are easy to install, but we always recommend the use of a qualified electrician. To ensure the maximum heat, lay our XPS insulation boards on the subfloor first.

Water Systems work in conjunction with your central heating, where warm water is pushed through a system of pipes to heat up a room. Using a single length of pipe means there is less chance of a leak. As the central heating system doesn't have to heat the water to as high a temperature as a radiator, your water heating costs will be lower.

There are options of a single room, or multi room/ zone system, with each zone being able to be controlled individually.
